| User Agent  | App Code Name | App Name | Device Version | Platform | Vendor | Vendor ID | Build ID      | CPU            | Product | Product ID |
|---|---------------|----------|----------------|----------|--------|-----------|---------------|----------------|---------|------------|

At the bottom, it says: "Browser: Mozilla/5.0 (Windows NT 5.1; rv:16.0) Gecko/20100101 Firefox/16.0 PHP version: 5.4.4 The newest version of Mutillidae can be downloaded from SourceForge".
